To,

The Manager/Principal
All Associated Colleges of University of Lucknow
Lucknow

Dear Madam/Sir,

The last two years have been especially challenging for the academic community, with education shifting from personalized one-on-one attention to the largely aseptic online interaction. However, this shift has challenged academicians across the globe to adapt, innovate and evolve mechanisms to make online interactions more fruitful and personalized.

Learning Management Systems (LMS) have helped make the transition of academics from the offline to the online mode easier. While, these systems are much used globally, they are not necessarily adapted to the unique social and academic framework in India.

University of Lucknow thus initiated and successfully developed an in house copyrighted digital Learning Management System Strategic Learning Application for Transformative Education (SLATE) for making the experience of online classes personalized and seamless.

The platform offers multiple unique solutions including:

- Multiformat support
- 24x7 access to online education
- Enrichment of offline classes
- Time table management
- Monitoring of student attendance
- Members only access, thus limiting external obstruction
- Feedback mechanism
- Easy transparent standard student evaluation

It differs from the many available free as well as paid online interaction platforms being prominently used for classes during the pandemic in:

- Allowing multiple parallel interactions
- No limit on persons in an interaction
- Sharing of files
- Assessment ease
- Automatic attendance

- Access to registered persons only
- Cost effective

Use of LMS also provides benefits during the accreditation process. Further, the state government has encouraged institutions of higher learning to develop Learning Management Systems (LMS) integrating online teaching vide letter no. 5809/Sattar-2020-8(35)/2020 all. This is also the direction of the NEP-2020. During the time of pandemic we have all realized the pressing need for online teaching portal.

In view of the above, the University of Lucknow is now offering use of its LMS-SLATE to other universities and colleges under following conditions:

- University will provide initial training of faculty and staff for use of the platform.
- University will provide links and backup
- An amount of Rupees ten thousand per program per annum will be charged. Payment is to be made at the following details:
