Proposal for Internship/Project Training/Dissertation
at
University of Lucknow
Lucknow-226007

Scope of the proposal

Internship/Training in various fields viz. Biological sciences, Chemical sciences, Computer sciences, Engineering, Mathematical sciences, Physical sciences, Management studies and Social sciences is an extremely important component of the New Education Policy (NEP2020) curriculum. This is already mandatory in several government, private and technical universities for the completion of various degrees/diplomas. This initiative of hands-on training is of utmost importance in order to boost up technical skills in students for getting more opportunities in industry and academia. This proposal will help to formalize the training program across faculties in University of Lucknow as per the mandate of NEP2020. This will enable University of Lucknow to be recognized as the first state level University as technical training hub under the New Education Policy.

Who can apply?

A student who is enrolled in full term degree/diploma (Under Graduation/Post Graduation/Certificate/Diplomas) course in state/central government recognized University/Institute/College in India as well as abroad can apply. He/she who is officially recommended/sponsored by the University/Institute/College/Department will carry out his/her training/dissertation/project work required either for completion of research project or for fulfillment of degree/diploma. The students of different Departments and Institutes of University of Lucknow, Lucknow can also apply for in-house training/dissertation. Students from abroad should have their own fellowship before joining for research project in University of Lucknow.

How to Apply?

- Students can directly apply via email to faculty of concerned Department/Institute of University of Lucknow, Lucknow. Once the faculty agrees and gives his/her consent for the same, then student will have to submit their Application form (Annexure I) to Research Cell, UoL (researchcell.uol@gmail.com) along with consent letter from faculty and HoD of department at UoL where project work is to be carried out, official recommendation/sponsorship letter from their parent Department/Institute/College/University with said duration and all relevant documents. The student will pay the prescribed fees as follows depending upon the duration of training. The training fees will be deposited in the General Fund of the university as follows:

- Training/Dissertation Fees

- Rs. 5000/- For Max 03 Months.
- Rs. 8000/- For Max 06 Months.

Note: Application must be initiated at least one month before the proposed commencement of project work.

- As per university rules for utilization of overhead budget, 60 will be reimbursed to the Supervisor/Faculty/Teacher as cost of training and 40% will remain in the general fund of the University as overhead cost.
- After successful completion of training the Trainee will submit a soft copy of training report duly signed by Faculty/Supervisor via email to Research Cell (researchcell.uol@gmail.com).
- Certificate will be issued in said format by the Research Cell, University of Lucknow after the recommendation from Supervisor/Faculty/Teacher duly forwarded by Head/Director of the Department/Institute of UoL.
