

Three Days Workshop on Application of 'R' Software in Population and Social Science Research

Organised by: Population Research Centre, Department of Economics,
University of Lucknow, LUCKNOW 226007 (UP)

28.09.2021-30.09.2021

Applications are invited from the faculty members and research scholars of Economics and other Social Sciences for Three Days Workshop on Application of 'R' Software in Population and Social Science Research being organized by the Population Research Centre, Department of Economics, University of Lucknow during 28-30 September, 2021. The workshop is being organized with the objective to provide exposure and hands on training practice to the candidates on data handling and analysis using the statistical software 'R'.

There is no registration fees for the selected candidates. All selected candidates will be provided lunch, tea, etc. by the organizer. If outstation candidates are interested they can make their own arrangements for stay. The selected candidates are required to be present throughout the workshop. Interested candidates are encouraged to apply as under:

- Apply on plain paper and the application should be forwarded through proper channel. However, the candidate may send advance application and bring the leave letter from their institution in case they are selected for the Programme.
- Also attach a CV along with your recent passport size photograph.
- All applications should be sent on the email: workshop.prc.lu@gmail.com
- Last date for receiving the applications is 25.9.2021.
- Only selected candidates would be informed about the decision through email and/or mobile SMS.

Director
Population Research Centre
Department of Economics
University of Lucknow
LUCKNOW 226007 (Uttar Pradesh)

For any queries, contact:
Mr. Akhil Kumar Singh: +91-888768464
Ms. Sunanda Mishra: +91-9120025666