Lucknow: Lucknow University will soon call a meeting of all department heads and deans to decide the modalities of written tests and classroom presentations for recruitment of teachers at the entry level.

The last date to apply for 199 vacant teaching posts ended on Friday. The applicants have been given time till October 5 to make corrections if any in their forms.

"We will begin screening of application forms soon, thereafter candidates will be called for interview. Only at the entry-level, that is for the post of assistant professor, will candidates have to appear for written test and classroom presentation. On the basis of their overall academic performance, marks scored in written test and classroom presentation candidates will be shortlisted and called for interviews," said LU vice-chancellor Prof Alok Kumar.

LU had initiated the recruitment exercise last in September when 180 vacant teaching posts were advertised. Around 5,024 applications were received by the university for the various posts but in June LU had to cancel the previous hiring advertisement due to the change in appointment rules of higher education teachers made by Raj Bhawan.

On September 9, LU again advertised the 199 teaching posts that included 87 of assistant professor, 70 of associate professor, and 42 of professor in accordance with new teachers' appointment rule.
