NOTICE

University of Lucknow has turned 100 this year. For a century this exalted seat of learning has served the nation and its people with students in each and every walk of life. In order to honour and mark these 100 years of excellence, the University has decided to felicitate the ex-LU students who have been selected for a private or government job during the last six years (2015-2021), in a Function. Former students may apply online through the Google form with following link on or before 20th October, 2021.
