The convenor of GenSen cell Prof. Roli Misra welcomed all and spoke about the activities of this cell.

The topic was introduced by Dr. Prashant Shukla,member of the cell. Prof. D.R. Sahu, Head, Department of Sociology shared his views on Gender equality, how we can voice the silence and break the barriers. This was followed by instrumental performance by Abhinn Shyam Tewari, oration of self composed poem by Siksha from Sem III Economics, titled' Voicing the Voices'. Another poem titled 'Maa ab ghar, ghar nahi lagta' composed by Sanskriti Burnwal was also recited which explained the situation of women in chains in a household. The other students Medha, Devana and Mansi also shared their views and lived experiences on Gender issues. Medha spoke about toxic masculinity and Devana said that Gender stereotypes are within us and we have to break within ourselves. Songs on women empowerment were sung by Nandini Sahai" Main kaun Hoon" and Vaishnavi "Jeete hain Chal". Dr. Dhal from department of Sociology spoke about Unconstructing Gender. Dr. Prashant Shukla stressed on role reversals that in household female will cook but the chef's and cooks in hotels are largely males. We are taking about gender sensitization and not radical feminism. Anshul Bharti recited his poem on female voice. Few other students shared their lived experiences related to the barriers and discrimination they have faced in the society and their coping strategies. The famous nukkad group 'Adamya' of the University of Lucknow ignited the young minds sitting in the auditorium and there was intensive interactions amongst the students coming from different department on the gender issues, barriers and how to mitigate them.
