Exclusive SAGE Workshop Organized by Tagore Library, University of Lucknow, under the ONOS Initiative to Promote Research Excellence.

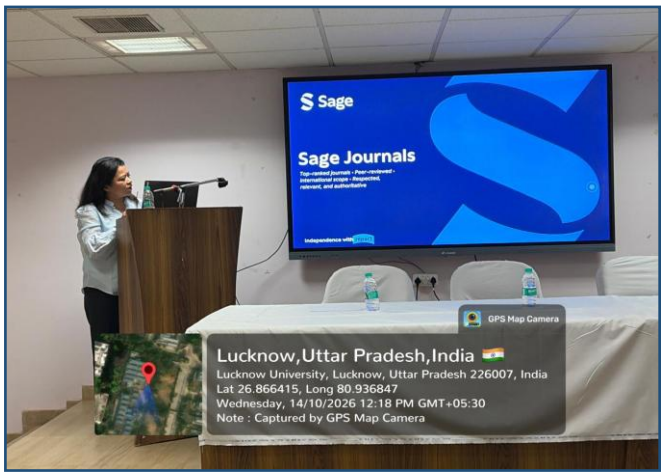

Lucknow, 14 October 2026: Tagore Library, University of Lucknow, in collaboration with Sage, organized an exclusive workshop titled "Enhancing Research Excellence with ONOS" at the Tagore Library Auditorium on 14 October 2026 at 12:00 noon. The session aimed to familiarize faculty members, research scholars, and students with Sage Journals and guide them in identifying suitable journals for publishing their research.

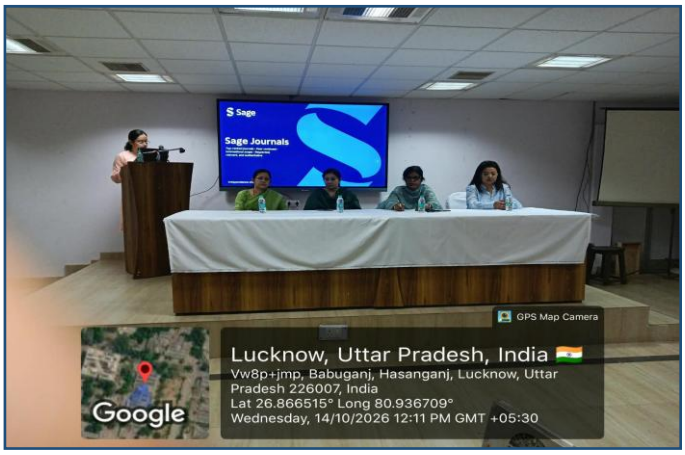

The programme commenced with the inaugural address by Prof. Roli Misra, Honorary Librarian, Tagore Library. The technical session, "Discover, Navigate & Maximize Sage Journals for Research," was conducted by Ms. Renu Rana, who introduced participants to the Sage journal portfolio and highlighted its relevance across academic disciplines.

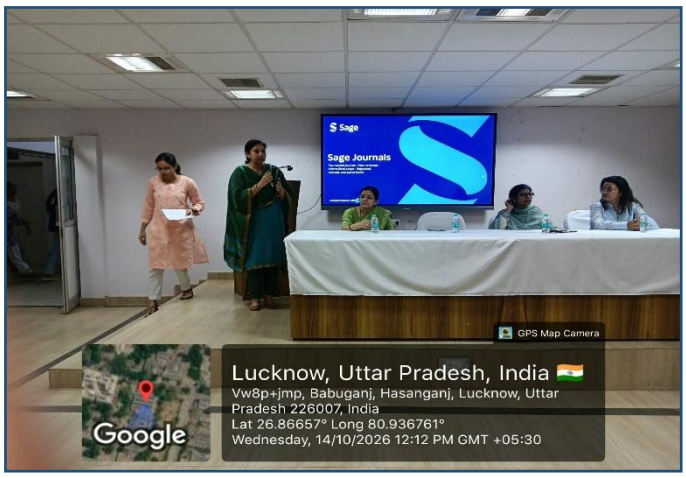

The workshop covered important aspects of scholarly publishing, including subject coverage and relevance for academic research, evaluating journals before submission, understanding the publishing process and author rights from submission to publication, and identifying appropriate Sage journals through the Sage Journal Recommender.

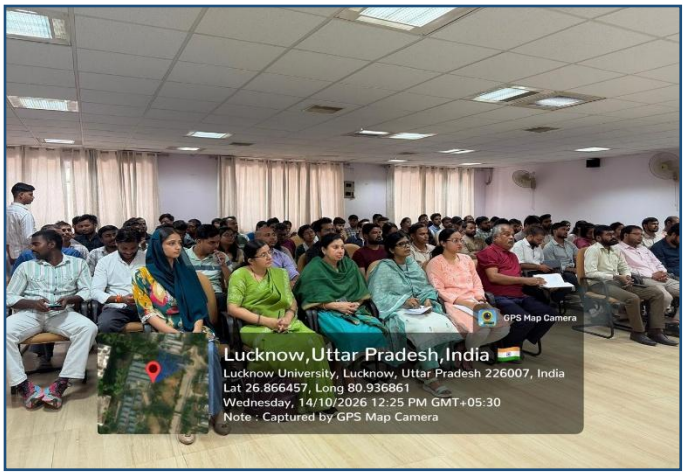

The session also featured an interactive question-and-answer segment and quiz conducted by the Sage team, enabling participants to clarify their queries and explore the available resources. The programme concluded with closing remarks by Dr. Jyoti Misra, Deputy Librarian, Tagore Library.

The workshop reaffirmed Tagore Library's commitment to promoting awareness of electronic scholarly resources and strengthening the research and publishing capabilities of the University's academic community through the One Nation One Subscription (ONOS) initiative. The programme was conducted by Ms. Priya Tiwari, Assistant Librarian, Tagore Library, University of Lucknow. Assistant Librarians Dr. Amit Kumar Verma and Mr. Nilesh Gupta were also present in the programme.
